Case No. 2:12-CV-01005-KJD-VCF

ORDER

13 On September 17, 2012, the Court issued an Order (#37) directing Plaintiffs' counsel, Craig
14 Huffman, to show cause why he should not be sanctioned for failing to disclose a prior disciplinary 15 proceeding on his petition to practice pro hac vice. On September 18, 2012, Mr. Huffman filed a 16 Response (#38) indicating that his failure to disclose the prior disciplinary proceeding was 17 inadvertent and that he mistakenly believed he was only required to disclose proceedings that 18 resulted in suspension or revocation of his license to practice law.

19 Had Mr. Huffman disclosed his prior disciplinary proceeding, the Court would have granted
20 his petition to practice pro hac vice. The Court accepts Mr. Huffman's representations that the 21 omission was inadvertent. Accordingly, the Court determines that sanctions are not warranted.

22 DATED this 19th day of September 2012.
